History of corner establishment since Original Government Survey

Henry Schroeder was here in September of 1895 and set a 3/4" round iron, 2.64' long and a sandstone 1' long and 8" wide. Ray Hurlburt was here in October of 1940 and found Schroeder's stone and the point of a decayed stake. He then set an auto torque tube on the East side of the stone, up 1'. In July of 1954, Bergman shows an existing auto torque tube. In October of 1969, Fred Zietlow found Hurlburt's monument. In April, 1975, Pritzlaff used this torque tube in a survey of Section 8.

Found Hurlburt's torque tube, up 1' and accepted it as the corner.
